Letters to the editor

Compliments statistical issue

Sir:

Such a dry title as the Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred Statistical Review for 1992, while off-putting to candy cake readers who prefer the fluff of say, a diary, perhaps, nevertheless has found eager readers among the couch-potatoes of Country Life.

Great job. Thanks so much!

Sincerely,

More on hippotherapy

Sir:

In the March 1992 issue of MARYLAND HORSE I was pleased to see the interview on hippotherapy with Jean Tebay. Unfortunately, our center was not mentioned in the last question: Where is hippotherapy practiced locally? We have contacted Mrs. Tebay about this oversight and invited her to come visit our facility.

Our center is a unique place where those who are interested in hippotherapy and therapeutic riding can come all year long and obtain the physical therapy they require. Our licensed physical therapist (LPT) works with over 50 one-on-one clients per week and our hippotherapy services are covered by most health insurance policies. In 1992 we were able, through our scholarship fund, to give over $35,000 to clients who could not afford our services. We have a growing number of high school and college students who come to the center to fill both volunteer requirements and to use the center as a model for required papers and/or projects. We invite anyone who is interested in learning more about our wonderful program to make an appointment to visit our center—our program operates starting at about 2 p.m. daily and runs all day Saturday.

Personal perspective

by James F. Lewis III

Maryland's Funds belong at home

Jim Lewis is a past president of the Maryland Horse Breeders Association.

Does it bother other Maryland breeders as much as it does me that Wide Country has just been named our 1991 Maryland-bred horse of the year? It's not that Wide Country isn't deserving—she is a wonderful filly. What bothers me is that while she is being honored as a "Maryland-bred," she is by Magesterial, a horse who stands for $5,000 at Spendthrift Farm in Lexington, Ky. Every Maryland honor she receives will result in a financial bonanza not for any stallion standing in Maryland, but for Magesterial, the Magesterial syndicate and Kentucky's own Spendthrift Farm. There will be more mares to Magesterial, higher prices for his foals, and all sorts of financial benefits. Spendthrift might even send a thank-you letter to the Maryland Horse Breeders Association for all it has done to subsidize this fine stallion—maybe something we can frame and hang on our wall. In the meantime, perhaps one of our members could answer a question which perplexes me: How are all these great things we are doing in Maryland for Magesterial helping our industry here?

All of you know our 1986 and 1987 Maryland-bred horse of the year, Broad Brush. He's now standing for $15,000 at Gainesway Farm in Lexington, Ky. Broad Brush was a horse who was well liked here and would have been very popular if he had gone to stud in Maryland. Nevertheless, his owner chose to stand him in Kentucky for many of the same reasons people often use in selecting Kentucky. One of those reasons is that under the present rules of the Maryland Fund, all of Broad Brush's offspring that are foaled in Maryland and bred by residents of Maryland are still eligible to participate in our Maryland Fund program. In other words, our current Fund program, except for the promise of a few stallion bonuses, offered little incentive for Broad Brush's owner to keep him here. Needless to say, Broad Brush is off to a good start at stud. However, I hope it bothers you to learn that the leading earner from his first crop of 3-year-olds is Sticks and Bricks ($119,282), a winner of two stakes which were both restricted to Maryland-breds. His second leading earner, Sweep of Daylight ($75,246), had his biggest payday while running second in the restricted Maryland Juvenile Championship. Again, there is something going on here that doesn't make sense. Why should the produce of a Kentucky-based stallion, in this case Broad Brush, have access to the benefits of the Maryland Fund program? Why should our limited resources be used to catapult Broad Brush into the limelight and take business away from a comparable horse, say Private Terms or Waquoit, who is standing right here in our home state?

Standing a stallion anywhere is an expensive and risky proposition. The risks are doubly high for a stallion in Maryland because, unlike Kentucky, we do not have a strong commercial market for the produce of our stallions. In the current economic climate, stud fees and stallion values in Maryland have plummeted. Ask yourself some tough questions. How many shares have you sold lately? For that matter, how many stud fees have you either bought or sold at their advertised price?

How is the market for your young horse? How are things at the races? Are you making any money? Certainly, we are not going to change the answers to these kinds of questions by adhering to the same programs we have followed for the past 30 years. Instead, we must find innovative new ways to reward investors who will breed in Maryland to Maryland stallions. Strong incentives should be implemented to encourage breeders to stay home and keep this industry alive.

Fortunately, we have an area where we can look to find the much needed help. Within our state program, we can change the definition of a Maryland-bred from its current form which allows the produce of any stallion, anywhere, to participate in our program to the following:

In order to be eligible for Maryland-bred registration, a foal must be:

- 1) foaled in the state of Maryland
- 2) sired by a registered Maryland stallion

The impact of a state-sired, state-foaled program will encourage more people to breed here and eventually race here. No longer will Maryland-breds have to share our restricted funds with foals sired by stallions from all over the world. If you want a shot at Maryland Fund money, then breed to a Maryland stallion and let the mare foal here. Then when the foal runs at a Maryland track, it's eligible to participate. It's that simple. Let's end up with a program that funnels what resources we have into rewarding breeders who support and invest in the industry here—not a program that rewards and encourages Spendthrift Farm.

BRILLIANT BRASS triumphs in Grade 3 Snow Goose Handicap

"Brilliant Brass moved up leaving the backstretch, circled into the stretch, swept to the lead in midstretch and drew off under a hand ride." Daily Racing Form, 3/30/92

New man for the Million: Ryland's Roger Schipke

Story by Lucy Acton

What kind of career would Roger Schipke have had if he hadn't gone on to be the CEO of one of the largest homebuilding firms in America?

Maybe major league baseball.

"I almost signed with the old St. Louis Browns in '53 or '54," says the soft-spoken chairman of The Ryland Group, Inc. "That was the team that became the Orioles; I joked with Brooks Robinson about how he and I could have been teammates."

Schipke, a tall, lanky man of 55, doesn't strike you at first as an almost-has-been athlete. But then, he doesn't fit the image of a high-powered corporate executive, either.

He's sitting in a hotel coffee shop on a Saturday morning, wearing a dressed-for-comfort corduroy shirt and looking like someone's amiable next-door neighbor, or a gentleman farmer. Which, in fact, are also roles familiar to Roger Schipke.

The newly-elected president of Maryland Million, Ltd., Schipke brings a wealth of background to the job. While not so well-known to local horsepeople as his predecessors Jeff Hugueley and Jim McKay, he participates in the major leagues, both as a horse owner/breeder and businessman.

"We've always hoped to find a leader who sits at the top of a high-profile, Maryland-based public corporation, and is also a horseman," says Maryland Million executive director Rich Wilcke. "And we have found that in Roger Schipke."

Schipke, a former member of the Kentucky State Racing Commission, is relatively new to Maryland. He and his wife Jacquelyn (Jackie) moved to Baltimore in May, 1990, when he was named president of Ryland. Before that, they lived in Louisville, Ky., where Schipke headed the appliance division of General Electric.

They have 18 horses, including four broodmares and seven horses of racing age, all boarded and trained at the J. William Boniface family's Bonita Farm in Darlington, Md. Their current racing stable includes two 3-year-old fillies whom Boniface sent out to win stakes for the Schipkes last year: Point Spread (by Capote) and Toosie (by D'Accord).

The better of the two, Point Spread just missed earning a berth in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies-G1. Bought by Mr. and Mrs. Schipke for $34,000 at last year's Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Selected Two-Year-Olds in Training sale, Point Spread won Delaware's Everget Stakes and finished second in three other added-money races, including Laurel's Selima Stakes-G3 and the Miss Grillo Stakes-G3 at Belmont. "I'd like to think she'll be ready for this year's (Grade 2) Black-Eyed Susan Stakes (on May 15 at Pimlico)," says Schipke.

Toosie, purchased privately from Canadian breeder Tom Webb, captured Philadelphia Park's Critical Miss Stakes and finished second in the Salem City Stakes at Meadowlands.

Horses weren't always a big part of the Schipkes' lives. Like a lot of people, they got interested in the sport after one of their children took up riding. Their daughter Kimberly, now 18 and a student at Kenyon College, competed nationally on the Saddlebred horse show circuit in the 1980s. Among the top ten in her division, and reserve national champion at Madison Square Garden in 1986, she won three world championships at Freedom Hall in Louisville in 1989.

The Schipkes, like all horse show parents, found out that talent has its price. "It was very, very expensive," says Mrs. Schipke. "We started looking around for a way to offset the expenses. There we were in Kentucky—what better place to start a business with horses?"

They claimed a mare named Foxy Dancer (by Duck Dance) for $15,000 on July 29, 1983, at Ellis Park. "I was mortified by the name," says Mrs. Schipke. "It sounded so pornographic. Then she won, and we went to the winner's circle, and I said: 'Oh. . . MY. How easy this is.' "

"Foxy Dancer wasn't a great horse, but she got us off to a great start (winning two of the four starts she made for them)," says Mr. Schipke.

"It's still our dream to win the Kentucky Derby. Now we hope to do it with a Maryland-bred."

Schipke was on the board of directors of the Citizens Fidelity Bank in Louisville at the time. So was prominent breeder/owner Warner Jones. Within months after their first venture, the Schipkes and Jones went into partnership on three horses. Included in that package was Little Jet Setter, a Star de Naskra filly who won more than $100,000.

"We thought the whole game was a snap," Schipke admits. Next they formed a corporation, taking the name Chance of a Lifetime Stable from the popular Dan Fogelberg song ("Chance of a lifetime in a lifetime of chance.") Their nom de course became Colts Ltd. after they picked up on the acronym: Chance Of a Life Time.

"In Kentucky, I applied for and got—can you believe it was available?—a license plate with the word COLTS," says Mrs. Schipke. "When we moved up here, people had to explain to me why it wasn't a good idea to ride around with that on my car. They warned me that somebody might throw something at it." (As a reference to the Colts football team, which was taken out of Baltimore.)

Sunshine Farm, a leased property halfway between Louisville and Lexington, became the headquarters for Chance of a Lifetime Stable's growing horse population. "It was a European-style training facility, with grass courses that went up and down hill," explains Mr. Schipke. "We also had broodmares. At the high point, we had 35 to 40 horses of all ages."

The horses were syndicated among many of the Schipkes' friends and business associates, with the Schipkes maintaining 51 percent ownership. To keep track of the operation, Jackie Schipke opened her own office on the 19th floor of a downtown Louisville high rise. "I was president of the corporation; it was all very CEO-ish. I thought I'd died and gone to heaven," she says.

Through their friendship with Warner Jones, they secured Bill Mott as their trainer and advisor. And they continued to find the business rewarding. The Schipkes developed a severe case of Kentucky Derby fever in the spring of 1986, with Noble Majesty (a His Majesty colt), but went into remission after he finished out of the money in the Louisiana Derby-G3.

They learned the virtues of patience through Castle Lass, an Irish Tower filly who bowed a tendon while breaking her maiden impressively in her first start at Churchill Downs in the fall of 1986. "We resigned ourselves to the idea that her racing career was finished," says Mrs. Schipke. "And sent her to Warner Jones's farm to begin life as a broodmare. She aborted her first foal. A year and a half later, we saw this feisty thing running in a field at Warner's place, and she looked pretty good to us.

"By that time Bill Mott's brother-in-law Terry Mason had taken over as our trainer, because Bill had accepted a private job with the Firestones. Terry took a look at her, and agreed with us. We put her back in training." Castle Lass won in allowance company and earned more than $100,000 over the 1988 and '89 seasons, also placing second in the $50,000 Don Riley Handicap at Canterbury Downs.

When the Schipkes were getting ready to make their move to Maryland, they dispersed some 25 horses over a one-year period, and liquidated the syndicates. Today all of their horses are owned outright.

Accompanied by their trainer Bill Boniface (far right), Roger, Jackie and Kim Schipke scout racing prospects at a recent Timonium auction.

It's a different kind of operation from what they had in Kentucky, but every bit as enjoyable, says Schipke. "We especially like the fact that all our horses are in one place; we can go up there on a Saturday morning and see them all." Bonita horses are trained on the farm, and shipped to race tracks to run. "We're delighted with the job that Bill and his family are doing," says Schipke, who met the Bonifaces through another well-known Bonita client, Jim McKay.

The Schipkes, who own shares in the stallions El Raggaas (who stands at Bonita) and Opening Verse (Northview Stallion Station), are sending mares to those two stallions this season, as well as to Northview stallions Polish Numbers and Waquoit. Their 1992 foals are by Carnivalay, Caveat and El Raggaas.

They suffered a heart-wrenching loss last summer when Castle Lass (in foal to Cryptoclearance) died after being struck by lightning at Bonita. "It was the first time we've had anything like that happen in 30 years in the business," says Joan Boniface. But fortunately, the mare's Tasso colt, now a yearling, escaped injury.

To replenish their broodmare band, the Schipkes purchased the highest-priced broodmare at this year's Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Winter Mixed sale, 7-year-old Dame Avie (by Lord Gaylord), a full sister to Harri-man, for $31,000. She had a Carnivalay filly this spring and is back in foal to Polish Numbers.

"We love Maryland racing," says Mrs. Schipke. "But it's still our dream to win the Kentucky Derby. Now we hope to do it with a Maryland-bred."

Maryland's horse racing connections must have been a consideration when Schipke ended his 29-year stint with GE and joined Maryland-based Ryland. But there were bigger reasons for choosing to relocate here.

"Jackie and I were becoming empty nesters," says Schipke, whose son from a previous marriage, Timothy, 28, is stationed in Spain as a U.S. Navy intelligence officer. "I had gone about as far as I could go at GE. During my nine years with the appliance division, we expanded worldwide and annual sales went from $2 billion to $5 billion. I didn't want to keep running the appliance division for another ten years, but the chairman of the company and I are about the same age.

"I had always wanted to be chairman of a New York Stock Exchange Company, and Ryland (founded but no longer owned by well-known Maryland horseman Jim Ryan) offered an opportunity to do that." Schipke replaced former Ryland CEO Ted Peck, who had overseen tremendous expansion in the company after taking over from Ryan. The Ryland Group conducts business in 15 states and almost 30 markets across the country, its vast empire including a rapidly-expanding subsidiary, Ryland Mortgage Company.

One of Schipke's goals has been to make Ryland even more of a brand name in the building business. "More than homebuilders, we like to think of ourselves as durable goods manufacturers," he says. "We're offering the public a product, like a refrigerator or a car, that comes with a name and a certain assurance of customer satisfaction."

A native of St. Louis, Mo., Schipke traces his climb through the corporate ranks in what could be a model success story. After rising to the top as a high school athlete in baseball and basketball, he was talked out of a professional sports career by his parents, who urged him to go to college. His father was a supervisor for a large commercial plumbing company.

He graduated from Washington University in St. Louis in 1958, then enrolled in Navy Officer Candidate School, attaining the rank of Lt. j.g. During his years in the Navy (from 1958 to '61), Schipke was stationed most of the time on a destroyer based in New York. He took that opportunity to do graduate work at New York University, earning a master's degree in business administration.

Planning eventually to teach management and marketing in a business school, Schipke started working on a doctorate degree after the service. He left school when General Electric made him a job offer he couldn't refuse. "Money," says Schipke, when asked why he made the change.

He started out in sales and marketing, then became part of GE's general management. During his first 12 years with the company, he was transferred numerous times, and lived in ten different cities, including New York, Boston, Cincinnati, Los Angeles and Detroit. He and Mrs. Schipke met while both were working in the company's Boston headquarters.

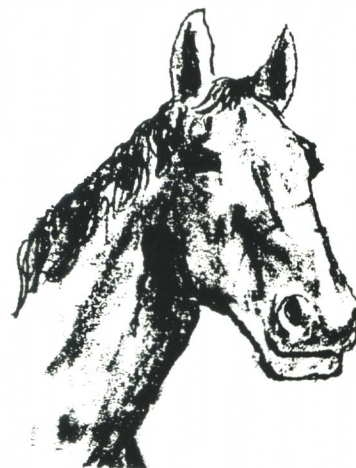

Jackie Schipke had grown up in Boston and worked as a fashion model before finding employment in the appliance division of GE, where she organized displays and spoke to women's groups, among other duties. The Schipkes were married in 1968.

Ten years later, Mr. Schipke's career had advanced to the point where he was permanently assigned to the company's main offices in Louisville. In 1981, he became a senior vice-president, and four years after that was made part of GE's executive committee, just one step below the CEO.

Schipke has also served in a number of important capacities outside of his work. In addition to the Kentucky State Racing Commission (where his term coincided with that of Gov. Martha Layne Collins), he was on the Federal Reserve Board in Louisville, as head of the audit committee.

His current resume lists Legg Mason, Inc., the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra and the Greater Baltimore Committee as groups for which Schipke serves on the boards of directors. He is also a member of the board of trustees of Washington University and a delegate to the Policy Advisory Board for the Harvard University Joint Center for Housing Studies.

So his new involvement with the Maryland Million in many ways won't be all that new to Roger Schipke. He says he plans to focus on long-range planning during his term as Maryland Million president. □

Not much strolls on this Memory Lane

Story by Jack Mann

No, Nick Bassford told his friend Sonny Wayson, he didn't know King Leatherbury. Not directly. Bassford had been acquainted with King's father, the very tall, very handsome Taylor Leatherbury. He'd met the gentleman at a crap game, a game whose stakes Charles Nicholson Bassford had quickly perceived to be too tall and too handsome for a young produce salesman who had assembled $250 as his venture capital.

Well, anyway, Morgan (Sonny) Wayson advised his lifelong friend, King Leatherbury was desirous of forming a partnership. He'd been to a Florida yearling sale and paid $38,000 for a colt by the prolific Nodouble out of Thirty Paces, just about the fastest filly Leatherbury ever saw.

Sonny's brother Boone was agreeable, and they needed a fourth. Leatherbury figured $11,000 each would take care of the purchase price and the colt's "initial" nurture. Elaine Lerch Bassford, the schoolteacher who then as now was the chief fiscal officer of the Bassford enterprises, heard the case and issued her judgment: "We do not have that kind of money."

"Well, go look at the colt, anyway," Sonny suggested. "He was nice," Bassford recalls. "Not toed in, not back at the knee. He was correct." So was the decision, the rare override of Elaine's veto. Six stakes victories, $478,662 in earnings and fourscore winners later it is still paying off at $5,000 live foal. The quarter share of Thirty Eight Paces was a major boost to the Bassfords' fledgling racing/breeding adventure, which seemed to culminate in the first three months of this year, when horses running in the peach and brown colors of Elaine Bassford appeared unable to lose for winning.

When your family farm's 17-horse racing stable wins five stakes, two of them with horses you claimed for $35,000, for three different trainers in eight weeks, you're rolling. When the other two stakes winners (of three stakes) are homebreds, you're in business. Brilliant Brass, the roan mare saddled by Carlos Garcia to win the Conniver on March 8 and the $100,000 Grade 3 Snow Goose on March 26, was bred by the Bassfords' daughter, Marshale Heffron. "I want the farm to be carried on," Nick says, "and my daughters can't farm tobacco."

The rolling hills of Davidsonville could still yield tobacco, or corn or any of the crops that grew when Bassford's great-grandfather pioneered his 140 acres with the technology of Cyrus McCormick and John Deere. The ground was always fertile, as attested by the weeds in the yard of the grade school where Nick first met Elaine Lerch. By September they had grown higher than your head and the kids used to make thatched houses of them.

The Bassfords' nom de course is Memory Lane, for the three-furlong driveway up the hill from Double Gate Road to the sumptuous home, overlooking the fields with their unpainted horse fences. On the way you can see the white house Nick's father built, for $2,000, in 1941, when the boy was 3. A few years later Nick would look forward to the tobacco harvest, which meant the ride to Marlboro with his grandfather to sell the crop. On the way back they would stop for a good dinner and Grandpa would treat himself to a couple of beers, which Grandma wouldn't allow him to bring in the house.

"Davidsonville was sparse then," Nick recalls. "We knew everybody in a radius of 20 miles." That would include the people at Wayson's Corner, about 15 miles south. "It's changed so much."

But not completely. At the intersection of Rtes. 214 and 424 is the crux and ethos of Davidsonville. A single building houses the market-and-deli, law office, real estate agency and gas station cum kerosene tank. In the backyard is the cemetery where some Davidsonvillians have rested for nearly two centuries. It is an essence Nick Bassford clings to: his preference of the two worlds he has earned himself.

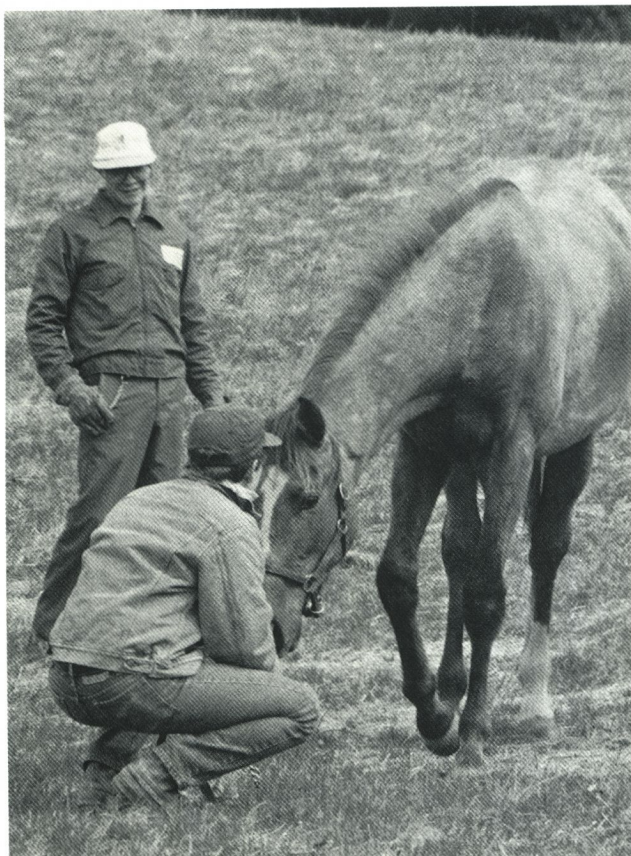

With the help and support of a wife his trainers say is as smart as he ("Smarter," Nick says without hesitation), Bassford has become a successful entrepreneur: wholesale merchant, restaurateur and horseman ("One of the few," says Carlos Garcia in his direct way, "who makes money."). But Nick was uncomfortable, almost alarmed, at the news that the Bassfords might be the first of the Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association's "Owners of the Month," to be so noted on ESPN.

Such celebrity seemed too far a departure from the barefoot kid in his grandfather's tobacco rows, learning "the logic you get from shoveling manure." A couple of years in the Air Force, three weeks as a clothing salesman and a short tour as partner in a gas station are all steps toward becoming the "generalist" Nick Bassford calls himself, but it began with the grandfather who could fix things and sharpen skates and who always stopped in the smokehouse on his way in to lunch. The 4-year-old peeked and saw there was a picture of Jesus on the wall.

Aquilla (Cockey) Johnson, the stable manager at Pimlico, submits that the worst setback racing has suffered in his time was when the first owner slipped a condition book into his pocket. King Leatherbury, who has trained dozens of owners, agrees in principle, citing Tuffy Hacker's classic rate card for prospective owners: "Twenty a day if I train 'em and 40 if you do."

"But it's okay if a man knows what he's doing," Leatherbury said. "Nick was just going through the elementary stages when I first knew him, but he'd qualify as an expert now. His approach to the game is serious. He's a businessman who loves the sport, exactly the kind of owners we need more of."

Garcia also finds the Bassfords to be trainer's owners, in the "ballplayer's ballplayer" sense. "They are working people," Carlos points out. "That is important. Nick calls me if he wants to know something, and sometimes we talk about breeding. But he's a big boy now."

The Bassfords started acquiring Thoroughbred mares in the late 1970s, before Sonny Wayson invited them to jump in with Thirty Eight Paces. On Garcia's advice they bought the Stage Door Johnny mare Scorchers, in foal to Groton, for $16,500 at the Keeneland fall sale in 1977. Optimistically they named her 1978 filly Double Gate Lady, for the blacktop road off Route 424 to the Bassfords' house, and she responded by winning three of her five starts as a 2-year-old, including the Bowie Kindergarten, for earnings of $35,950. At 3 Double Gate Lady won the Politely, the Flirtation and the Windfall and earned $58,151 more. She was saddled by Teofilo Diaz, Garcia having gone to New York to train for Gustave Ring. "We came back for the picture," Garcia says, referring to the Politely, in which fillies trained by Garcia or his deputies finished 1-2-3-4.

Meanwhile Thirty Eight Paces was making his "correct" impression, winning four stakes and $194,631. In that same year, 1981, Sir Brilliant was foaled, the product of the share the Bassfords bought, again on Garcia's advice, in Brilliant Protege. That stallion was from the first crop of Secretariat, out of Ogden Phipps's *Ribot mare Irradiate. "Sir Brilliant," says Elaine Bassford, reading from her soigne records, "raced 47 times and earned $73,550." (A daughter and son-in-law have lightened Mrs. Bassford's bookkeeping work with the gift of a computer. Elaine, Marshele and sister Julie have laughs now, remembering when the family planted several acres of tomatoes as an adjunct to the young, struggling wholesale produce business, and how far into the night it can take you to wash, dry and pack enough same-sized tomatoes to fulfill the plum contract as tomato-caterer to the United States Naval Academy, enrollment 4,500.)

The Brilliant Protege share gave the Bassfords Brilliant Stepper, stakes winner of $243,669, and the end is not yet. Brilliant Protege stands at the Edmarve Farm of Ed Verdi, in recent years Nick Bassford's quail-hunting chum, and the 17-year-old stallion is the grandsire of the roan mare Brilliant Brass, who completed the Bassfords' sweep of the Laurel stakes on the March 7-8 weekend. Bred by daughter Marshele ("I wanted her to have a distinctive name," Elaine explains) and trained by Garcia, 5-year-old Brilliant Brass scored at $15.60 in the Conniver, a race in which stakes winners Wood So and Wide Country were both 9-10.

(The odds on Brilliant Brass were considerably shorter when she made her next start, coupled with Wait for the Lady in the Snow Goose Handicap-G3 on opening day at Pimlico. She beat her entymate by three and a half lengths, paying $3.60 to win.)

On March 7, Leatherbury saddled a former $16,000 claimer named Ameri Valay, who drew off to win the $50,000 Private Terms by three lengths. The 3-year-old colt, by Country Life Farm's Carnivalay out of Hal Clagett's mare Americo's Sphinx, paid only $7.40 because the surprise came a week earlier. Leatherbury "just guessed" the young sprinter, claimed from Leo Ambrogi for $35,000, could get two turns. Ameri Valay shadowed the pace of the mile and a sixteenth allowance for three quarters, then won off, by nine and one-half lengths. "We may have a star for the future," Nick Bassford said.

Brilliant Brass and stablemate Wait for the Lady finished one-two in Pimlico's Snow Goose Handicap-G3. Nick and Elaine Bassford are dreaming of great things to come with this 2-year-old colt, Super Memory, by Waquoit.

The Bassfords could have had the colt for $16,000 when trainer Jerry Robb put him in a maiden claimer last November, but Hal Clagett is an old friend. For some years the Bassfords' yearlings were broken by Hal's niece, Christy Clagett.

The week before Ameri Valay's emergence, 5-year-old Wait for the Lady led all the way to win the $60,000 Squan Song and increase her earnings to $344,915. She has earned about a quarter-million of that since Leatherbury claimed her from Hickory House for $35,000 when she was 3. "Way she works in the morning," said the exigent Leatherbury, "she ought to have more money by her name."

(Wait for the Lady did, in fact, pick up another $20,000 when finishing second to Brilliant Brass in the Snow Goose.)

Other claimers contributed to the Bassfords' first-quarter success. Speedy Kris, claimed by Leatherbury for $6,500 from Vinnie Blengs, won easily for $10,000 18 days later. One Two Punch, taken in November for $12,000, won three times, stretching out to take a nine-furlong allowance. "Nick loves to claim now," Leatherbury says.

It was not always thus. Nick remembers saying "I hate to" when Richard Vermillion, on a pretty good roll, suggested the Bassfords try claiming. Nick had to develop a philosophy about it, sorting out business principles and ethics he'd learned from the previous three generations of Bassfords, from a two-year campaign to sell tomatoes to Haussner's restaurant, from a rude introduction to Chapter 11 by a client who slipped $28,000 behind.

Losing Sir Brilliant by a claim led Bassford to consider the process more closely, and at length he came to look at it differently. "You can call it claiming," he says,

"but what it is is a sales ring with no fees, no percentages to pay. It puts horses where they belong. When we break our horses we know some are winged out, no better than $5,000.

"But they can be useful. We sold Saratoga Pro (a homebred by Brilliant Protege who raced 12 times, at five distances, before he broke his maiden) for $2,500. He can win at Charles Town."

The fourth of the Bassfords' winter stakes winners was a triumph for the work ethic. They gave Festive Feathers to Rick Sillaman to train not because he was the kid from the family "on the next road over" in Davidsonville, Nick said, but because "I like young people who look like they're gonna try."

Sillaman, 30, has been trying to be his own trainer for two years, after a decade as assistant to Jerry Robb, and doing well at it. In his first year on his own he saddled 84 starters and 20 won. Forty-eight were in the money. But he hadn't had a stakes winner until February 1, when he sent Festive Feathers off at 14-1 in the Goss L. Stryker Stakes. The 3-year-old half-brother to Brilliant Stepper, by Thirty Eight Paces out of a Ruffled Feathers mare, was a maiden after two sprints.

Ridden by Mike Luzzi, Festive Feathers caught Neoptolemus at the eighth pole and hung on to prevail by a nose so diaphanous it left Nick Bassford standing outside the winner's circle with palms up and an interrogative expression on his face. A reporter assured him the finish was 5-2, but Bassford needed two concurring opinions before he'd enter. Never, Nick told Sillaman, had a race thrilled him more. Never, Sillaman said, had he yelled so loud—even when he was rubbing Little Bold John.

Nick had a promise to keep. "He wasn't crazy about running Festive Feathers in that race," Sillaman said. "He said if I could win with him he'd give me more horses." Bassford has plans to fulfill the promise.

Nick has lots of racing plans, apparently. He is bullish about racing. On the day Ameri Valay won the stake, racing in Maryland and in general seemed pervaded by portent of gloom and doom. The "good old days," the consensus said, would never be back. Racing, some were saying, was in a survival crisis.

Nick Bassford, entrepreneur of horses and other commodities, had something else to say. "If you want an apartment building or a horse," he said in the winner's circle, "Now's the time to buy."

One of the chimeras haunting the racing thinkers that day was the potential monster of parimutuel racing in Virginia. "If racing comes to Virginia," Nick Bassford said, "or to Texas, for that matter, aren't people going to need horses?"

"Couldn't Maryland racing be better than it ever was?" □

Stallion rules changed

The Maryland-bred rules have been amended as follows:

A stallion (registered with the Maryland Horse Breeders Association as standing at stud in Maryland) remains eligible for stallion awards if he leaves this state after the conclusion of the Maryland breeding season, which is from February 1 to July 31, for the purpose of standing at stud in the southern hemisphere, and returns to this state for the next consecutive Maryland breeding season.

For more information on this change, or other matters relating to the Maryland Fund, call Georgia Dovell at the MHBA office, (410) 252-2100.

Spring Double put down

Spring Double, one of Maryland's longtime leading sires, was humanely destroyed on March 19 at Glade Valley Farms. He was 29.

"The horse had been in remarkably good health until the past week, when he developed a kidney problem and deteriorated rapidly," said Glade Valley part-owner and manager Dr. Robert A. Leonard. Spring Double had been retired following the 1989 breeding season, and has four registered foals of 1990.

From 20 crops, he has been represented by 25 stakes winners, including champions Martie's Anger (the nation's top steeplechase horse of 1979) and Henriette (champion 3-year-old filly in Mexico, 1983). Spring Double's other stakes winners include Double Buncious ($502,243), Duo Disco ($455,258), Double Zeus ($403,867), Double Reefed ($366,050) and Gala Lil ($354,368).

Spring Double has sired 242 winners; 84 percent winners from starters; and has progeny earnings of more than $12.4 million. He is also the broodmare sire of 14 stakes winners.

He was Maryland's fifth all-time leading stallion, by progeny earnings, through 1991 and eighth by number of winners.

A son of Double Jay—*Sunset Gun II by Hyperion, Spring Double made his entire stud career at Glade Valley Farms, near Frederick. He raced from age 2 to 6, amassing 22 wins, including the Pimlico Futurity, Massachusetts, Stuyvesant, Camden and Valley Forge Handicaps, and earning $438,317.

Robert —

August 20, 1991

Again many many thanks from all of us to you and to Kip for the use of your beautiful equipment and your generosity on the price. The problem of shipping our young rider horses was quickly solved in your hands and our concern about the girls on such a long drive was solved by knowing Kip's eyes were on the watch for their safety.

Next year we're off to Bromont and you will be the first call we'll make in the Spring.

Thanks again - Lois McCardhy

June 10 is the last day to put your 2-year-old on the right track.

Or the left one.

But there is one and only one deadline for nominations to these two Del Mar classics.

There's no "early" nomination date. And no "late" nomination date.

There's just Wednesday, June 10. The deadline. The day your $250 nomination fee, for each 2-year-old in each race, is due.

Last year, Bertrando won the Futurity and La Spia took the Debutante.

For further information, call us at (619) 755-1141. Or write us at P.O. Box 700, Del Mar, CA 92014-0700.

Either way, hurry. Because the time to put your 2-year-old in the running is running out.

AMERI VALAY

1992

\$50,000 Private Terms Stakes, 1 $\frac{1}{16}$ mi., 3-year-olds. Laurel, March 7.

Bred by Hal C.B. Clagett and Country Life Farm

Owned by Elaine L. Bassford; trained by King T. Leatherbury

Foaled at Weston, Upper Marlboro, Md.

1992 (SW)	4	3	0	0	54,360
	11	4	0	2	$65,190

(through March 7)

Ameri Valay is rapidly establishing himself as one of Maryland's top 3-year-olds.

Victorious (by a total of 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ lengths) in three of his last four starts, he squashed a competitive field in Laurel's Private Terms Stakes. Rated just off the pace set by America the Free, he took command in the upper stretch and drew off to score by three lengths over longshot Exit West and America the Free, who were a nose apart at the wire. Coin Collector finished another six lengths back, followed by Ky Lord, More Paces and Festive Feathers.

Ameri Valay (by Carnivalay) has contributed to Nick and Elaine Bassford's recent remarkable success (a feature article on the Bassfords appears on page 20). But it isn't a happy story for breeder Hal C.B. Clagett. The colt showed little in his first four starts for Clagett (which consisted of a maiden special and \$50,000, \$25,000 and \$16,000 maiden claiming races). Equipped with blinkers in his fifth try, for a \$16,000 tag at Laurel on November 14, he won by 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ lengths. And was claimed.

"He didn't wake up until that day we ran him in blinkers," says trainer Jerry Robb. "We were surprised that we lost him; we were certainly sorry to lose him."

Ameri Valay made only three starts for his new connections, owner John D. Ambrogio and trainer Leo Ambrogio, before changing hands again. Trainer King Leatherbury claimed him on behalf of owner Elaine Bassford for $35,000 on January 3.

The first foal from his dam Amerrico's Sphinx (by Amerrico), Ameri Valay is reminiscent of Clagett's experience with another homebred, Little Bold John. Sold for $30,000 as a 2-year-old when his career was getting off to a rocky start, Little Bold John went on to earn $1.8 million. Amerrico's Sphinx's dam Silent Sphinx (by Gala Harry) is a half-sister to Little Bold John.

After finishing one/two in the Barbara Fritchie Handicap-G2, Wood So and Wide Country renewed their rivalry three weeks later in the Conniver Handicap.

But Brilliant Brass stole the show.

Annexing her first stakes at the age of 5, the Bassford homebred came from far behind and skimmed the rail in the upper stretch, to finish a half-length in front of Wood So. It was another two and three-quarter lengths back to Wide Country, followed by One Third and Capp the Power.

Wide Country carried high weight of 119 pounds, one pound more than Wood So and seven more than Brilliant Brass.

Brilliant Brass, the first stakes winner for her sire Marine Brass, who stands at Murmur Farm in Darlington, Md., has shown talent all along. She has been lightly raced, due to a knee problem and a bout with colic, reports Elaine Bassford. (A feature article on the Bassfords appears on page 20.)

The first foal from her dam Brilliant Lady (by Brilliant Protege), Brilliant Brass was precocious at birth, recalls Mrs. Bassford. "She was born on a snowy, icy night. The vet came, and suggested that the mare needed to be turned out the next day for exercise; he said the foal would be all right. We turned them out and they both ran and ran in that deep snow. We had to go out and stop them. We said to ourselves—'This little one has so much heart!'"

Brilliant Lady has had one other foal to race, a 4-year-old filly, L.D.'s Girl by Lord Double Gate, who is a winner of $5,095. She has a 2-year-old Lord Double Gate filly and a yearling colt by Marine Brass, both still owned by the Bassfords. Brilliant Lady was sold, in foal to Marine Brass, at the 1991 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic December Mixed sale for $1,700. "Somebody got a bargain," says Mrs. Bassford.

Forest Fealty staged a dramatic upset in Santa Anita's Las Flores Breeders' Cup. Dispatched at odds of 20-1, the 5-year-old Baederwood mare raced just off the early pace, and drew away at the quarter pole to win ridden out by five and a half lengths.

Fractions were :21¹/₅, :44, :56¹/₅ and 1:08⁴/₅, with the final time being one and three-fifths seconds slower than the track record for six furlongs.

Forest Fealty is one of two 5-year-old mares sired by Baederwood to win graded stakes in 1992. The other is Wood So, heroine of the Barbara Fritchie Handicap-G2 and Interborough Handicap-G3. Baederwood, also represented by current stakes winner North Carroll, stands at Northview Stallion Station in Chesapeake City, Md., for $2,500 live foal.

Forest Fealty, bred by John Childs, of Glyndon, Md., was purchased by California-based owners Jan, Mace and Samantha Siegel at the 1988 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic September Yearling sale for $20,000.

(through March 21)

Frottage is defined by Webster's dictionary as "the technique of creating a design by rubbing (as with a pencil) over an object placed underneath the paper."

Some of Broad Brush's immense talent has obviously rubbed off on his son Frottage, who rallied from far behind to capture Philadelphia Park's Morning Charge Stakes by a nose as odds-on favorite. Bred, owned and trained by the same people—Robert E. Meyerhoff and Dickie Small—who were responsible for Maryland's 1986-'87 horse of the year Broad Brush, Frottage has won his last two starts. He drew off to score by an easy three lengths in a mile and a sixteenth allowance race March 12 at Laurel.

Frottage is out of the Tentam mare Suite of Dreams, one of a dozen or so mares whom Meyerhoff purchased around the time that Broad Brush was retired to stud. Meyerhoff still has a major interest in the stallion who stands at Gainesway Farm in Kentucky. He bought Suite of Dreams for $300,000 at the 1987 Tartan Farms dispersal.

Already the dam of two stakes winners: Important Business ($405,865, Illinois Derby-G3) and Feudal ($120,345), Suite of Dreams was in foal to Spend a Buck when she arrived at Meyerhoff's Fitzhugh Farm in Phoenix. Her 4-year-old Spend a Buck colt, Creative Act, placed second in last year's Humphrey S. Finney Stakes and is a winner of $87,970.

Maryland-bred stakes winners

Gertrude and Leonard (Skip) Leviton have had tremendous success with horses they've bought from Glade Valley Farms and Dr. and Mrs. Robert A. Leonard. But none has been more remarkable than Gala Goldie.

Purchased privately before the start of her racing career, the Glade Valley-bred filly, a foal of 1979 by Jungle Savage, raced only one season—as a 2-year-old—winning four of ten starts and earning $23,570 for the Levitons.

It's as a broodmare that Gala Goldie shines. She's the dam of four foals to race—all stakes horses. Gala Goldilocks, recent Haddonfield Handicap winner, is her biggest money-earner. The others are Gala de Oro, a 1983 filly by Shelter Half ($80,855, Heavenly Cause S, What a Summer S, etc.); Gala Gold Dust, a 1984 Rollicking colt ($247,122, 2nd Challedon H, Devil's Bag S, etc.); and Gala Gold Digger, a 1989 filly by Rollicking ($55,725, Toddler Breeders' Cup S, etc.).

Gala Goldie has a 2-year-old colt and yearling filly, both by Rollicking. Not bred for 1992, she was bred this spring to 1990 horse of the year Criminal Type.

Gala Goldilocks, meanwhile, is adding to the family reputation. She annexed Garden State's Haddonfield Handicap by a neck while sharing highweight of 114 pounds, two more than runner-up Damie's Sis.

February 29—leap day—was a rare and wondrous occasion for Skip and Gertrude Leviton.

In one afternoon the Levitons, who have five horses in training, won stakes at two race tracks. Their Gala Spinaway won Laurel's Harrison Johnson Handicap, and Gala Goldilocks captured the Haddonfield Handicap at Garden State. Both Gala Spinaway (a colt) and Gala Goldilocks (a filly) are 4-year-olds trained by Bernie Bond.

Gala Spinaway, the more accomplished of the two, was getting his seventh stakes victory. Maryland's champion 3-year-old colt of 1991, Gala Spinaway carried high weight of 117 pounds, and was 27-10 favorite in a field of 12. He wore down pacesetter Flaming Emperor in the stretch and scored by a half-length. Flaming Emperor held on for second, four and a quarter lengths in front of Valley Crossing, who had defeated Gala Spinaway last time out, in Laurel's Native Dancer Handicap on January 20.

A retired beer distributor from Atlantic City, N.J., Skip Leviton and his wife have bred and raced horses (with Bernie Bond as their trainer) in Maryland since the 1970s, and are longtime clients of Glade Valley Farms. They purchased Gala Spinaway privately from Nancy Leonard, wife of Glade Valley managing partner Dr. Robert A. Leonard, after the colt failed to meet his reserve at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic 2-year-olds in training sale.

Irish Swap's two starts so far in 1992 have both resulted in stakes wins. He annexed the Whirlaway Stakes by two and a half lengths over five rivals. Carrying 118 pounds, he completed the mile and a sixteenth in 1:43.

Irish Swap races for his breeder Randal Hendricks, a Houston, Tex., attorney. The 5-year-old horse was foaled in Maryland when his dam Graceful Swap (a foal of 1974 by Dr John Swaps) was sent to Sunset Hill Farm to be bred. Hendricks, who boards his small band of broodmares at farms in Kentucky, sold Graceful Swap for $700 (in foal to Eminency) at a Timonium auction later that year.

Graceful Swap had four earlier foals, all winners, the best of whom, Take Ones Fancy (a 1983 filly by Superbity), earned $94,064. Irish Swap is her last foal to race; there is no report on the mare for the last three years. Although she was a modest winner of four or 47 starts and $26,101, Graceful Swap came from a black-type family. Her dam Gracefully Gallant (by Native Charger) was a half-sister to Eclipse award-winning sprinter Guilty Conscience and major stakes winner Ashanti Gold.

Lucky Lady Lauren continues to pile up laurels for her sire, Carnivalay. The 5-year-old mare from Country Life Farm stallion Carnivalay's first crop soared to an eight-length victory in the Wintergreen Stakes at Turfway Park.

Her fifth career stakes win boosted Lucky Lady Lauren's earnings over the $300,000 mark.

Bred by Washington D.C. dentist Dr. Herman J. Kossow, Lucky Lady Lauren won two stakes in Maryland before being sold (for $250,000) to nationally prominent owner Issam Fares in the spring of 1990.

Fares was undoubtedly attracted to Lucky Lady Lauren because he already owned her half-sister Barbarika (a 1985 Bates Motel filly) who won graded stakes and earned $346,184. Dr. Kossow sold Barbarika as a yearling at auction in Kentucky for $39,000.

Both Lucky Lady Lauren and Barbarika are daughters of Dr. Kossow's good mare War Exchange (by Wise Exchange). War Exchange, a foal of 1972, won Bowie's Conniver Handicap and placed in several other added-money races for Dr. Kossow. She is also the dam of stakes-placed Count on Kathy and granddam of stakes winners Count on a Change and T.V. Countess.

Due to the mare's advancing age and chronic fertility problems, in 1989 Dr. Kossow sold War Exchange to his veterinarian, Dr. Tom Bowman, for one dollar. War Exchange had a filly by Waquoit in 1991, and was not bred for 1992. She was to be bred this spring to Polish Numbers.

The $14,000 Frank and Ginny Wright paid for State of Grace at the 1983 Fasig-Tipton horses of racing age sale at Belmont Park figured to be a bargain. But for a long time it didn't seem to be turning out that way.

State of Grace (by Key to the Kingdom) was consigned to that sale as an unraced 3-year-old by her breeder Paul Mellon. "I loved her pedigree," says Mrs. Wright. State of Grace is a granddaughter of the good stakes winner and stakes producer Admiring (by Hail to Reason), half-sister to champion Affectionately.

The Wrights brought State of Grace home to their Huntingfields farm near Hampstead and waited for her to start producing foals. They waited—and waited. Three and a half years went by before her first foal was born, a 1987 Oh Say colt, who was sold at auction and sent to Panama. Then the mare was barren for another year.

But her current 3-year-old, North Carroll (by Baederwood), has made up for all the frustration. A winner in three of his six starts, North Carroll got his first stakes score in the Mister Diz Stakes at Laurel. The even-money favorite in a field of five Maryland-breds, he triumphed by a length over Rainbow Prospect, with Cruel Cavalier, Sticks and Bricks and Renfro Valley completing the field.

State of Grace has a yearling Roo Art filly. She foaled an El Raggaas colt on March 23 and is booked back to Smarten.

In other news from Huntingfields, Mrs. Wright reports that their former stable star Valay Maid is in Kentucky being bred to Miswaki.

Smart Alec upheld his reputation as one of Maryland's top sprinters with a three-length victory in Laurel's J. Edgar Hoover Handicap. Carrying 115 pounds, three more than runner-up Fighting Notion, he completed the six furlongs in 1:10¹/₅.

Smart Alec (by Smarten) campaigns for his breeder, Mrs. Wylie F.L. Tuttle. The 4-year-old colt's dam Kalimera (Fr) is one of eight broodmares owned by Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle, who operate 240-acre Rock Hall Stud in Rock Hall, Md., with their daughter Amanda.

Kalimera, purchased by Mr. Tuttle as a yearling at Deauville, France, won the Prix de Bellevue on her owner's 60th birthday. She is the dam of four other foals to race, two winners; a yearling colt by Lord Gaylord; and is due to foal this spring to Phone Trick.

Val de Nay, a big, handsome 5-year-old gelding by Val de l'Orne (Fr), gave an excellent account of himself in Philadelphia Park's Hemlock Stakes. After pressing Maryland-bred Valamont through early fractions of :22 and :44²/₅, he took command in the stretch and prevailed by a length and a quarter over The Cool Myrrh. Six furlongs went in 1:09²/₅ and the final seven furlongs in 1:22⁴/₅.

Owned and trained by Art Willson, who operates Point Lookout Farm in Woodbine, Md., Val de Nay is a half-brother to Rum and Gold ($178,313, Find H, Inner Harbor S). Willson trained Rum and Gold, a 6-year-old horse by Golden Act, for his longtime clients Richard and Ramona Rose. Mr. Rose is a Chicago-based commodities broker.

Rumaro, Val de Nay's dam, was purchased by Willson on the Roses' account at auction in Kentucky as a yearling in 1981 for $52,000. Rumaro (by Jungle Savage) won the Waya Stakes, placed second in the Gala Lil Handicap, and earned $67,080. The Roses sold her (in foal to Private Terms) for $38,000 at this year's Keeneland January sale.

The Jennings Handicap carries a rare distinction. Not only because it has a $100,000-guaranteed purse . . . or because the list of winners includes some of Maryland's finest—Little Bold John, Kattegat's Pride, Laplander, Bonny Johnny . . . or because it had its first running back in 1923.

It was named for William Jennings, one of Maryland's all-time great horsemen. Jennings, whose Glengar Farm was located six miles from Pimlico race track, on Smith Avenue, achieved national prominence in the late 1800s, his good horses including 1887 Preakness winner Dunboyne, whom he bred, owned and trained. His heritage has continued through his grandson, Hall of Fame trainer Henry S. Clark. Today, at 88, Clark still actively trains at Pimlico, where he is regarded as the dean of Maryland horsemen.

This year's Jennings Handicap went to another man who has done much to boost the profile of Maryland's racing industry. Robert E. Meyerhoff, breeder/owner of Maryland's all-time leading money-earner Broad Brush, celebrated the victory by his homebred Valley Crossing.

Valley Crossing scored by a length over Gala Spinaway, who was followed by Baron de Vaux, Timely Warning, Flaming Emperor, Forry Cow How and Haymaker. Receiving four pounds from 118-pound heavyweight Gala Spinaway, the Dickie Small-trained colt covered the nine furlongs in 1:49¹/₅, one and a fifth seconds slower than the track record.

Register your Maryland-bred foals of 1991 by MAY 31 to qualify for lower rate.

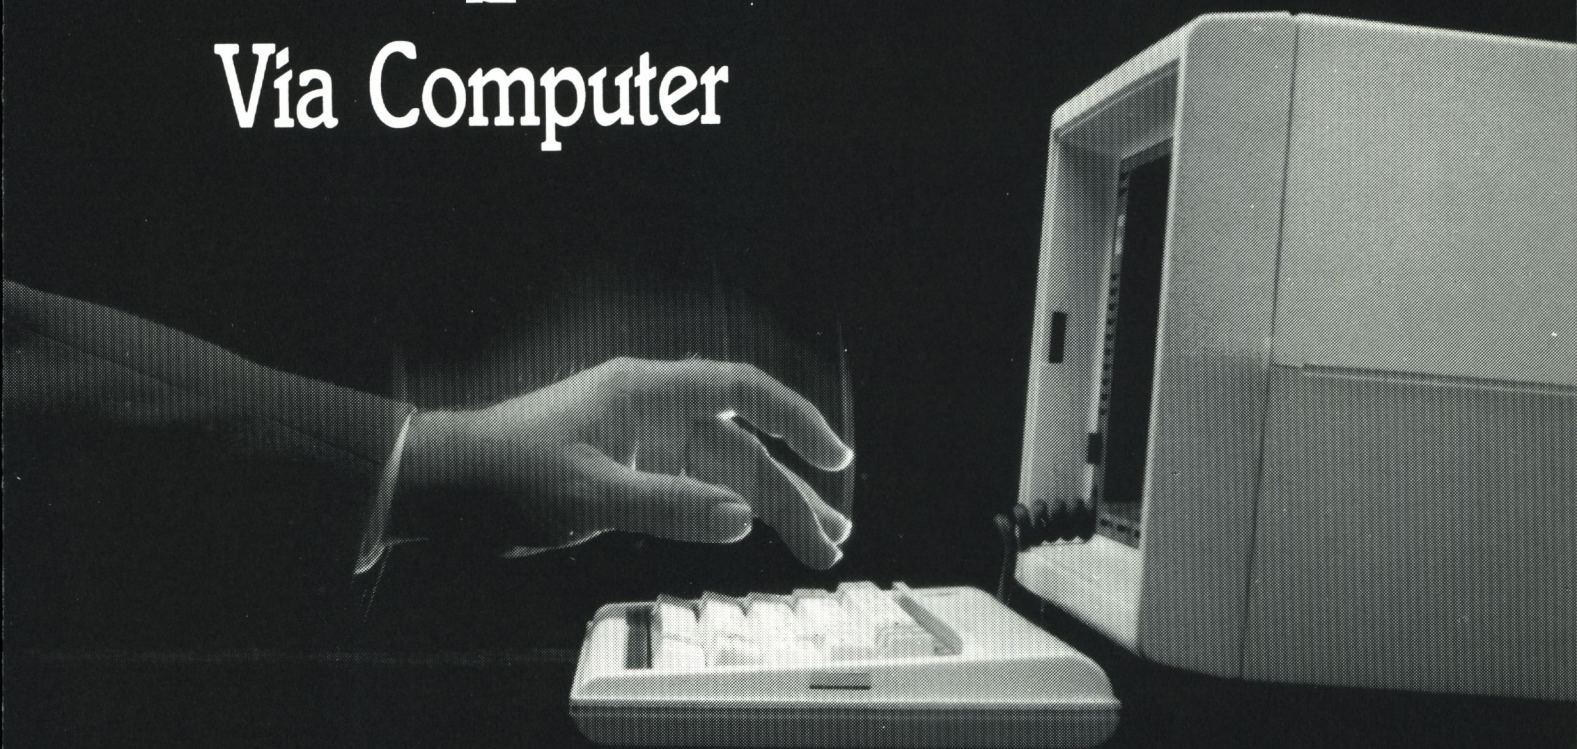

May 31 is the last day to register foals of 1991 as Maryland-breds at the lower weanling/yearling rate ($150 regular fee, $50 MHBA member fee).

Registrations postmarked after May 31 require the higher yearling/older horse rate ($300 regular fee, $200 MHBA member fee).

Mid-Atlantic report

MIKE MARTIN

Jim Beam Stakes-G2 winner Lil E. Tee, bred in Pennsylvania by Larry Littman, and sold for $25,000, is a surprise candidate for this year's Triple Crown races.

Pennsylvania

A major Triple Crown steppingstone (Virginia-bred Hansel won it last year en route to victories in the Preakness and Belmont Stakes), the Jim Beam was Lil E. Tee's first stakes win. But it is not likely to be his last.

The colt who was sold for a bargain $25,000 at the 1991 Ocala Breeders Sales Two-Year-Olds in Training sales broke his maiden by an 11-length margin in his second start at Calder last October. Owner W. Cal Partee then put up a reported $200,000 to buy Lil E. Tee, and has been rewarded with earnings of more than $300,000. Lil E. Tee finished third in Oaklawn Park's Southwest Stakes in his last outing before the Jim Beam.

Littman, unfortunately, sold Lil E. Tee's dam Eileen's Moment (by For the Moment) privately in Florida in January. However, he still owns her yearling filly by Imperial Falcon. Eileen's Moment foaled a colt by Maryland stallion El Raggaas this spring.

■ Rusty Carrier's Castleworth surprised nearly everyone with a decisive victory in the March 28 Nationsbank Carolina Cup Steeplechase at Camden, S.C. That included a record crowd of some 65,000 people who turned out for the 60th renewal of the event. "I was very much surprised by his race against the top horses and top trainers," said Carrier, who trains the 6-year-old gelding and campaigns him under the nom de course Fat Chance Farm.

By Worthy Too out of the Irish Castle mare Cahir Castle, Castleworth was bred in Pennsylvania by Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Dixon Stroud Jr. Unraced at 2 and 3, Castleworth was sent to Carrier as a 4-year-old. "The Strouds said if you train him for nothing, you can have half of him," recalled Carrier. "His first year he was backwards; he didn't finish a race. They wanted out. I bought their half (in 1991) because I still believed in him."

Castleworth had two victories at hunt meetings last year, and set a new course record for one and a quarter miles on the flat at Unionville last fall, but the Carolina Cup victory (over standouts Timely Encounter and Moonstruck) put him in a new league.

■ Francis Puleo, of Phoenixville, had a rare string of victories recently. His homebred 3-year-old filly Just a Little Fran won the Ivy Stakes at Philadelphia Park on March 8, paying $29 as the longest-priced entry in the race. A week later, the filly's sire Just Like Jo, also bred and owned by Puleo, won an $11,000 claiming race at the same track.

Just Like Jo, a 10-year-old son of Run Dusty Run, does double duty as a race horse and as a stallion at Puleo's Triple T Farm in Kimberton. "He enjoys what he does," says the owner, who bought several broodmares after Just Like Jo won a stakes in 1985. Just Like Jo has continued to race, compiling 13 wins from 117 starts and earnings of $163,062. Just a Little Fran (out of the Honest Pleasure mare Fun and Dames) is her sire's first stakes winner.

New Jersey

■ Golden Lure reasserted her bid as one of the best in her division with a length score against other New Jersey-bred fillies and mares in Garden State's March 21 Tosmah Handicap.

It was almost exactly a year to the day since the 4-year-old daughter of Mountain Lure—B. O. One by Kentucky Gold had won her last race, Philadelphia Park's Signature Stakes. But last December she was a game runner-up to the good filly Risen Colony in Garden State's Delaware Valley Handicap.

Golden Lure races for her breeder, Pat Vizzoni, who owns a construction company in Kenilworth and has been in the horse business since 1972. Vizzoni has three broodmares, whom he boards at Willard and Carol Thompson's Quiet Winter Farm in Colts Neck, and eight horses in training with Frank Costa. Golden Lure is the first stakes winner for her sire Mountain Lure (by Rock Talk), who stands at Quiet Winter. She has won or placed in 11 of 16 lifetime starts, including three stakes wins, and earned $107,965.

■ Casino-simulcasting appears to be on the horizon. A bill to allow for the introduction of race books at Atlantic City casinos was expected to be introduced in the state legislature in late March. It has the approval of the state's three major racing organizations.

Casinos would take bets on races simulcast from tracks all over the country. New Jersey race tracks' simulcast operations would also likely expand to include entire cards from out-of-state tracks on dark days during a track's own meeting. Revenue from such simulcasting could raise purses by some 25 percent within the next two or three years, it has been estimated.

■ The 1993 World Pair Driving Championships have been scheduled for October 7 to 10 at the U.S. Equestrian Team headquarters in Gladstone. This event will mark the first time that a world driving championship has been held outside of Europe.

■ It has been nearly two years since Stanley I. Joselson moved his breeding operation from New Jersey to Maryland. But Joselson's New Jersey-breds continue to go strong. Two 3-year-old fillies foaled at the former Josco Farm in Pennington scored in stakes in March.

Squirm (by Two Davids) captured the Jersey Belle Stakes on March 14 and came back to finish fourth in the Grade 2 Comely Stakes at Aqueduct.

Green Eyes (by Green Dancer) won the March 1 Aconite Stakes at Philadelphia Park.

Delaware

■ Long-prominent breeder/owner Bayard Sharp has another exciting 3-year-old. Pie in Your Eye (by Spend a Buck) gave some other good colts a run for their money while capturing the March 28 Cherry Hill Mile-G3 at Garden State. Owned and bred by Sharp in partnership with his son-in-law Will Farish, Pie in Your Eye is out of Sharp and Farish's good mare Meringue Pie (by Silent Screen).

Virginia

■ "He doesn't like to win by too much," said trainer Scotty Schulhofer, in a classic understatement, following Rubiano's victory in the Grade 3 Westchester Handicap.

But the 5-year-old horse has done some winning. Rubiano (by Fappiano) captured Aqueduct's March 22 Westchester by a nose, carrying high weight of 117 pounds, two more than runner-up Out of Place. It was the third career stakes victory for the Centennial Farms colorbearer, who also won last year's Westchester. Bred in Virginia by Third Kirsmith Racing Associates and sold as a yearling at Saratoga for $650,000, Rubiano has won nine of 22 career starts and earned $751,817.

■ Virginians Sam and Carolyn Rogers have had disappointment turn to elation with their filly Grab the Green.

The Rogerses, who acquired their White Oaks farm near Leesburg in 1953, are in the business of buying weanlings to resell at auction as yearlings. But when Grab the Green (Cozzene—Reach for It by Ack Ack), whom they bought as a weanling at the 1988 Fasig-Tipton Kentucky November Mixed sale for $26,000, brought a high bid of only $22,000 at the 1989 Keeneland September sale, they kept her to race on their own account.

Trained by Marylander Barclay Tagg, Grab the Green set a new course record (1:39²/₅) while winning the Grade 3 Buckram Oak Handicap at Gulfstream on March 14. Her time took two and three-fifths seconds off the former mile and a sixteenth course record. Grab the Green was not even hard-pressed to do it: she carried 119 pounds, two to seven more than each of her nine rivals, and crossed the wire three lengths in front of second-place finisher Christecat.

Grab the Green had already proven herself long before that. Winner of Hialeah's Black Helen Handicap earlier this ■ Virginia-bred Sabin, millionairess winner of 14 stakes, gave some of her most memorable performances in Florida.

So it was only fitting that the second running of the Sabin Handicap, on March 15 at Gulfstream, went to a Virginia-bred. Lemhi Go, a 4-year-old Lemhi Gold filly bred by Audley Farm and owned by Ron Magers, scored by a head over Trumpet's Blare, gaining her first stakes win.

West Virginia

■ A yearling colt from the first crop of the handsomely bred O'Sullivan Farm stallion Tagish (Mr. Prospector—Wayaf by Faraway Son) has O'Sullivan proprietor Randy Funkhouser dreaming about the future.

Already named Frank Gall (for the late West Virginia state steward, who was a partner in O'Sullivan Farm), the colt owned by Blair Rogers Major was bred from Mrs. Major's good mare Juanita's Girl (by Jungle Cove). Juanita's Girl's other foals include Gauntlett Boy (by Run the Gantlet), a multiple stakes winner of $285,593 who was the leading lifetime money-earning West Virginia-bred in competition last year. □

Joe Considine

The William du Pont Jr. Handicap figured to be a cakewalk for the mighty Damascus. At the peak of his power, having just swept to victories in the Preakness and Belmont Stakes, the soon-to-be-named horse of the year started as odds-on favorite on July 8, 1967, at Delaware Park.

But Damascus's best efforts failed to turn back an unheralded Maryland-bred named Exceedingly. The two battled to the wire and finished a nose apart in 1:42¹/₅, just two-fifths of a second off the track record.

Exceedingly had exceeded just about all expectations that day. Characteristically, Irish-born Joe Considine took the hoopla in stride. "He (Damascus) was a 3-year-old against older horses," said the trainer of 4-year-old Exceedingly at the time. "On the scale he gave my horse 17 pounds (eight actual pounds: 113 on Exceedingly, 121 on Damascus). That's an awful lot of weight . . ."

It was that attitude that helped make Joe Considine one of Maryland's most respected trainers of the 1960s and '70s.

"He was a thoroughly honest, conscientious and competent trainer, and indeed a gentleman of the old school," says Oliver Goldsmith, for whom Considine trained such stakes winners as Leematt, Silver Ice and Privacy.

Considine, 78, died March 29 at his home in Laurel. He is survived by his wife Betty and two daughters, Maura, of Melrose, Mass., and Elaine, of Bethesda, Md.

Thomas Imbesi

Thomas L. Imbesi, 79, a horse owner and retired vice-president of the 7-Up Bottling Co. of Baltimore, died March 10. Imbesi, who lived in Eldersburg for many years, had opened the Baltimore plant, one of several 7-Up bottling operations owned by members of his family, in 1936. A native of Philadelphia, he served in the Army during World War II.

His wife, the former Margaret Castellano, died in 1981. Surviving are two sons, Joseph A. Imbesi of Hunt Valley and Dennis M. Imbesi of Columbia; a daughter, Clara I. Morrison of Bonsall, Calif.; three sisters, Mary Carella, Catherine Mazzola and Millie Lorusso, all of Philadelphia; and two grandchildren.

James Pierce

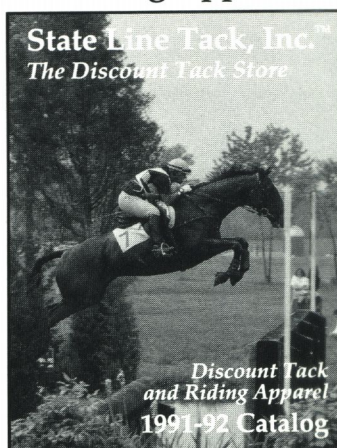

James H. Pierce, 62, of Ruxton (Md.), who headed both of the country's major pari-mutuel wagering companies during his career, died of cancer March 26. He was 62.

A native of the Atlanta suburb of Chamblee, Ga., Pierce was president of American Totalisator Co. from 1973 to 1982. In 1982, he joined Autotote, and until 1989 served as that company's chief executive officer and board chairman. He stepped down as CEO but remained Autotote's chairman until his death.

Survivors include his wife, the former Anne Ripley Struven; a son, Brooks H. Pierce of Baltimore; daughter, Kimberly Fowler of Atlanta, Ga.; and stepdaughter, Catherine L. Lucas of Baltimore.

LOOKING BACK . . .

50 Years Ago . . .

■ Hero of the timber racing season was Winton, an Eastern Shore-bred who made "a clean sweep of the My Lady's Manor, Grand National and Maryland Hunt Cup, all with owner-trainer Stuart Janney Jr. in the saddle," according to the caption of the cover photograph.

■ Under the heading "A True 'Maryland' Hunt Cup," it was pointed out that, like many previous winners, Mr. Janney was a descendant of Ellin North, the first white child born in Maryland. "Of 49 races for the Hunt Cup, no less than 12 have fallen to these Maryland-bred sportsmen, showing clearly how a great female line will carry on."

■ "Staff artist" Jean Bowman's impressions of the spring point-to-points were displayed in a two-page spread of sketches featuring, among others, Gillian Crimmens, Johnny Merryman and Private Sidney Watters.

■ A goal of $2,000,000 as racing's contribution to war relief was set at a New York meeting of the executive board of the Turf Committee of America, a recently formed umbrella group comprised of representatives of every organization involved in the Thoroughbred industry, including The Jockey Club, the TRA, the HBPA, etc. Lacking a national coalition, the various state breeders associations had united in the National Thoroughbred Breeders Committee, electing Janon Fisher Jr. of Maryland president.

■ "Mules Are Increasing in Value Daily!" proclaimed a small boxed advertisement, which continued: "The good Jack, The Admiral, will stand for the 1942 season at Mount Pleasant Farm, Cockeysville, Md. Fee: $15 cash at time of service."

30 Years Ago . . .

■ "Under his leadership the MHBA has accomplished more during the past 12 months than in any other single year of its history," wrote

Snowden Carter of retiring president Frank A. (Downey) Bonsal. Carter was referring to the passage of House Bill 106, which established the Maryland Fund and promised to revitalize the state's racing industry. This was achieved through the joint efforts of the MHBA and the HBPA, an unprecedented consolidation effected by Mr. Bonsal.

■ In an accompanying profile, Joe Hickey described Bonsal's totally horse-centered life as foxhunter, amateur jump jockey and, finally, nationally prominent trainer of flat runners, principally for Mrs. Marion duPont Scott at that time. Because his profession required frequent, often prolonged, absences from Maryland, Mr. Bonsal declined a second term as MHBA president.

■ "This was the most exciting race I've ever watched. I bred the horse, and I bred the jockey. And I also bred the dam and granddam of the winner," said Janon Fisher Jr., after Janon III's victory aboard Mountain Dew in the Hunt Cup. This was the fulfillment of a longstanding ambition for the man who trained three-time winner Blockade (1938, 1939 and 1940). Mountain Dew was a 7-year-old son of *Hunter's Moon IV, also sire of the champion steeplechaser of 1961, Harry A. Love's Peal.

■ Ephraim Winer had been quoted in the March, 1962, issue of the MARYLAND HORSE as saying, "We have an improving stable. And I'm not bragging when I tell you that Bronze Babu is better than he looked in the Widener Handicap." Indeed he wasn't bragging. Bronze Babu won the Wilwyn Handicap at Laurel on April 7 and then came back two weeks later to defeat champion grass horse T. V. Lark in the Laurel Handicap, setting a new course record.

The Winers' first stakes winner, Bronze Babu was by *My Babu—Triple R., a full sister to Tuscany and half-sister to Princess Lygia whom they bought as a weanling at the Maryland Fall sales in 1951 for $9,500.

10 Years Ago . . .

■ Rarely has the Maryland Hunt Cup produced a more dramatic climax than 1982's, when Tong finished a neck in front of Beech Prince, who held a half-length advantage over Appolinax. Ten lengths behind over the final fence, Turney McKnight put Tong into high gear through the stretch, just catching Jay Griswold and his perennial competitor Beech Prince at the wire.

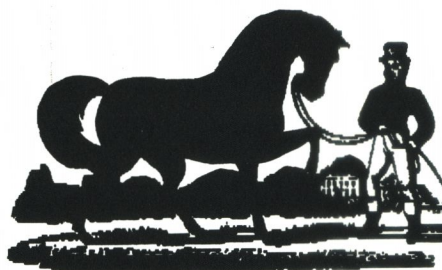

■ In the other timber events, Charlie Fenwick took the Grand National on Treasure Island and the My Lady's Manor with Sam Son of a Gun.

■ Unimpressed by the field for the Kentucky Derby, Snowden Carter concluded that Gato Del Sol was merely the best of a mediocre lot. He confessed, however, that he might have been more impressed had he bet on the winner at $44.40.

■ After 17 years of breeding and racing horses in Maryland, H. Morton Rosen had his first stakes winner when Hush Hush Flash scored in the $75,000 Federico Tesio Stakes. The victory was symbolic of the renaissance of Benray Farm, which had experienced a period of decline while Rosen recovered from two heart attacks. The man, the farm and the horse operation were back in top shape.

■ More than a year after fracturing his spine in a fall at Pimlico, jockey Sammy Boulmetis Jr. was also on the road to recovery. His rehabilitation had progressed to the point where he could get around on crutches and was thinking of going to officials' school.

■ Ross Peddicord contributed an account of his trip to the Aintree Grand National with Peter Thompson, whose Medoc was pulled from the lineup only four days before the race. Maryland was well represented, however, since Jeanne and John Begg had two highly regarded starters, the New Zealand-breds Royal Stuart and Royal Mail. Unfortunately, neither of the Begg colorbearers was able to complete the course. □

Setting stakes purses high

People who argue that the purses of stakes races across the country should all fit into a national pyramid (topped by the Breeders' Cup), or that the salaries of professional athletes should all be linked directly to athletic performance, reveal a woeful lack of understanding about the economics of such things.

Regardless of whether high purses and high salaries appear sensible or fair to those on the outside, the fact is that both result from certain economic judgments. Many factors are taken into consideration, some of which may be obvious, or even known, only to those responsible for the decisions.

In baseball, for example, factors affecting salary might include a player's popularity with fans, his work attitudes and popularity in the clubhouse, his key role in the team being assembled, his civic contributions, his leadership role in the public image of the franchise, and perhaps even the value of denying his services to other division contenders.

Likewise, stakes purses are set for many reasons. As an example, Santa Anita's Handicap is that track's biggest event, due, in large part, to the perception among Californians that its $1,000,000 purse connotes a very significant race. To argue that the same horses might enter if the purse were $400,000 misses the point. There are more factors involved than attracting a good field.

Track managements independently establish the purses that they believe will maximize return on investment. If the end result is 50 races over $500,000, so be it. For horsemen and breeders, all this means is a chance to cash in at an even greater level when they finally get the big horse. And isn't that the essence of this sport?
